Dear :

Thank you for contacting the verification center to determine whether you were impacted by the malicious cyber intrusion carried out against the U.S. Government, which resulted in the theft of background investigation records.

You are receiving this letter because you contacted the verification center. We have compared the identity data that you provided to us with our records and have concluded that your Social Security Number was not compromised in the intrusion.

Even though you were not impacted by this incident, the U.S. Government recommends that everyone be vigilant about protecting their identity and monitoring their credit. There are several on-line resources available to assist you in protecting yourself:

For information about ways to protect yourself from identity theft, visit the Federal Trade Commission's Identity Theft website at http://www.consumer.ftc.gov/features/feature-0014-identity-theft.

For information about how to recover from identity theft, visit the federal government's one-stop resource for identity theft victims at https://www.identitytheft.gov/.

For information about what the Department of Justice is doing to stop identity theft fraud, visit the Department's website at http://www.justice.gov/criminal-fraud/identity-theft/identity-theft-and-identity-fraud.

Please note that the Office of Personnel Management (OPM) will not contact you to confirm any personal information. If you are contacted by anyone asking for your personal information in relation to the cyber intrusion incident, do not provide it.

Sincerely,

Beth F. Cobert
Acting Director
Office of Personnel Management
