Firefighter Everline:

Captain Fitzpatrick has forwarded your request to me for appropriate action. She discovered that Captain Tilson had previously postponed your FFRT from 2013 when it had originally been scheduled until 2014, and that you are now seeking a second postponement. She decided that the decision whether to grant you yet another extension of time would be more appropriate at my level.

I have reviewed the record and see that I do have the authority to grant you an additional extension of time. However, the regulation is clear that no further postponement will be permitted so this one will be your last. If you do not attend the FFRT beginning Oct 6, '15, you will be subject to being removed for failure to meet the qualifications of your position. Because other employees are having similar issues, in fairness to them, I will be unable to grant you further leniency.

SUBJECT: Request for Postponement of Refresher Training

Captain Fitzpatrick,

As you know, I am scheduled to attend FFRT at Fort Leonard Wood in June 2014. I request that I be rescheduled to attend the course scheduled to start on October 6, 2015. My ex-spouse had originally agreed to take care of the kids while I'm gone, but is now planning on remarrying on Memorial Day weekend and wants to take a honeymoon trip to Europe and will not return until late June. My cousin can watch the kids in October, but can't do it in June because she will be studying for the bar exam. October is fine because she will be waiting on her bar results and won't be working.

Thanks for your consideration.

SUBJECT: Request for Postponement of Refresher Training

Sir,

As you know, I am scheduled to attend FFRT at Fort Leonard Wood in October 2013. I request that I be rescheduled to attend the course scheduled to start on June 2, 2014. My ex-spouse is a school teacher and will only be about take care of the kids for the four weeks I would be gone during the summer.

Thanks again for your consideration.
