SUBJECT: 1996 FEHB Open Season: Notice to Employees

GENERAL

Purpose

This Letter contains a sample announcement for notifying employees of the upcoming open season and instructions to agencies concerning the notification.

REQUIRED LANGUAGE

OMB

The Office of Management and Budget has asked that OPM advise agencies to include the following statement in the agencies' notifications to employees about open season:

Please note that information you provide by enrolling in the Federal Employees Health Benefits Program may also be used for computer matching with Federal, State or local agencies' files to determine whether you qualify for benefits, payments, or eligibility in the Federal Employees Health Benefits Program, Medicare, or other Government benefits programs.

TCC

The FEHB law requires that, before each open season, all employees eligible for FEHB, whether enrolled or not, be notified of their rights under temporary continuation of coverage.
In order to meet this requirement, agencies must include TCC information in their notices to employees about open season.

- We have included language in the suggested announcement. If you prepare your own notice, rather than using our suggested announcement, be sure to include this TCC language.

NOTICE TO EMPLOYEES

Agency Responsibility

Agencies and installations must inform their employees and participating former spouses and TCC enrollees, in advance, of the dates and purpose of open season.

The following is a suggested announcement which may be adapted for publication by the most efficient means:

SUGGESTED ANNOUNCEMENT

SUBJECT: 1996 Health Benefits Open Season

A Federal Employees Health Benefits (FEHB) open season will be held from November 11 through December 9, 1996.

During open season, any eligible employee who is not currently registered may enroll; and any eligible enrollee may change from one plan or option to another, from self only to self and family, or make a combination of these changes.

Enrollees who wish to continue their current enrollment do not need to take any action during this open season. However, enrollees whose plans will not be participating in the Program after December 31, 1996, or whose plans dropped an enrollment area having a separate enrollment code, must enroll in a different plan to continue FEHB coverage in 1997. (See attached lists of terminating plans and codes.) [If you don't attach the list, include the names of the terminating plans within the text of your announcement.]

There are three basic types of plans available under the FEHB Program:

1. Managed Fee-for-service Plans - These plans reimburse you or your health care provider for covered services after the services are received. If you enroll in one of these plans, you may choose your own physician, hospital, and other health care providers.

These plans are considered "managed" because they all contain features such as precertification of hospital admissions and utilization review of on-going care. In addition, most of the fee-for-service plans have preferred provider arrangements in many parts of the country. By using preferred providers, you can reduce your out-of-pocket expenses and, in some cases, receive enhanced benefits.

Fee-for-service plans include the Service Benefit Plan, sponsored by Blue Cross and Blue Shield, and plans sponsored by unions and other employee organizations. Several employee organization plans are open to all eligible employees who are full or associate members of the organizations that sponsor the plans; other employee organization plans are restricted to certain groups and/or agencies. (See the employee organization plan brochures for information about membership and membership fees, which are in addition to your biweekly or monthly premiums.)

2. Health Maintenance Organization Plans (HMOs) - These plans provide a comprehensive array of medical services, emphasizing prevention and early detection of disease, through contracted physicians, hospitals, and other providers in particular locations.

Each HMO is open to employees within the plan's enrollment area. You cannot enroll in an HMO if you are located outside its enrollment area. Refer to the plan's brochure if you have any questions about the enrollment area.

3. Plans Offering a Point of Service (POS) Product - Some FEHB plans have begun to blend their features. A number of fee-for-service and HMO plans now offer both forms of health care delivery, known as "in network" and "out of network." In an HMO that offers a POS product, the POS product acts like a fee-for-service plan: The HMO's enrollees may use non-affiliated (out of network) providers if they wish, but the services will cost them more—in terms of deductibles and coinsurance—than if they used plan providers.

In a fee-for-service plan with a POS product, the POS product acts like an HMO: If they agree to let their medical care be managed by a plan-affiliated gatekeeper physician (in network), plan enrollees will get a better benefit, usually in the form of richer benefits and lower copays or coinsurance.
Before open season begins, your current health plan will send you a copy of its brochure and a notice of its 1997 rates. If you are enrolled in an HMO, be sure to review the brochure carefully to see if there are any changes in the plan's service and enrollment areas which would require any action on your part.

If you are considering enrolling or making an enrollment change, contact [location] to obtain a copy of the 1997 FEHB Guide. The Guide contains a comparison chart that gives general information about each plan and shows the biweekly and monthly premium rates, as well as detailed results of the 1996 Customer Satisfaction Survey and the National Committee for Quality Assurance (NCQA) accreditation status of those plans that took the initiative to seek NCQA review.

Do not rely solely on the FEHB Guide when deciding to enroll in or change enrollment to a specific plan. If, after reviewing the FEHB Guide, you decide you are interested in making an enrollment change, consult the plan's brochure for a complete description of benefits.

Brochures for all plans will be available for your inspection at [location]. Due to the limited quantity available, please return the brochures after you have reviewed them. If you change health plans, however, you may keep the brochure for that plan.

How to Enroll or Make an Enrollment Change during Open Season:

Employees who wish to enroll or change their enrollment must complete a Health Benefits Registration Form (Standard Form (SF) 2809). These forms are available from the [name and room number of appropriate office] and must be completed and submitted to that office prior to the close of business on the last day of open season. We ask your assistance in making desired changes as early as possible in open season.

[Agencies whose employees have access to Employee Express to make open season changes should provide information about using the system.]

New enrollments and changes in current enrollments elected during open season generally will become effective January [first day of the first pay period beginning on or after January 1, 1997]. If you change plans, any covered expenses incurred between January 1, 1997, and the effective date of the open season change will count toward the 1996 deductible of the plan you are changing from.

Temporary Continuation of Coverage (TCC): You should be aware that if you leave Federal employment, you will probably be eligible for TCC (unless you are separated for gross misconduct). TCC can continue your enrollment for up to 18 months. TCC is also available for up to 36 months for dependents who lose eligibility as family members under your enrollment. This includes spouses who lose coverage because of divorce and children who lose coverage because they marry or reach age 22.

TCC enrollees must pay the total plan premium (without a Government contribution) plus a 2% charge for administrative expenses. There are specific time frames in which you or your dependent must enroll for TCC. Contact your personnel office for a copy of RI 79-27 to obtain additional information.

Please note that information you provide by enrolling in the Federal Employees Health Benefits Program may also be used for computer matching with Federal, State or local agencies' files to determine whether you qualify for benefits, payments or eligibility in the Federal Employees Health Benefits Program, Medicare, or other Government benefits programs.
