SUBJECT: HEALTH BENEFITS PREMIUM CONVERSION (HB-PC) FOR EMPLOYEES IN THE COMMONWEALTH OF PUERTO RICO

We have received several inquiries about the taxes paid by Federal employees in the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico and their relevance to the decision on whether to participate in Health Benefits Premium Conversion (HB-PC).

Federal employees, who are residents of Puerto Rico for the entire tax year, must include their pay for services performed for the U.S. government on their Puerto Rican tax returns. If they are U.S. citizens, they must also file a Federal income tax return, but may claim a credit against their Puerto Rican tax for the Federal income taxes they pay. Non-residents of Puerto Rico may not claim this credit against their Puerto Rican taxes.

As we stated in Payroll Office Letter No. P-00-13, Puerto Rico does not allow for the reduction of Puerto Rican taxes as a consequence of participation in HB-PC. Nonetheless, FEHB deductions from the pay of Federal employees in the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico participating in HB-PC will be excluded from their gross pay before both Federal income and FICA taxes are computed. Thus, the take-home pay of Federal employees in the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, who participate in HB-PC, will increase.

If they have any questions, we would suggest that you refer your employees in Puerto Rico to the Commonwealth’s Bureau of Income Tax on 787-721-2020 or at the following address:
